Abstract (en)
The invention relates to a faucet which can be mounted on a base (13), such as a wall, and which comprises a frame (1) provided with one or more inlet ports (11) for the entry of a liquid into the faucet and one or more outlet ports (3) for the exit of the liquid out of the faucet, and with means (12) for controlling and stopping the flow of the liquid. The invention is so implemented that the faucet comprises an anchorage part (2) which is separate from the frame (1) and can be secured on the base (13), that one or more liquid pipes (4) are connected to the anchorage part (2), and that the frame (1) can be fitted to the anchorage part (2). <IMAGE>
