Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9101667A1] The invention relates to a lounge comprising of: a) a first part, consisting of a lying or seating part (2), b) a second part, consisting of a backrest (3) or leg rest which is hinged to the first part, one of the parts being connected to a first toothed segment (12) which interacts with a second toothed segment (13) which is connected to the other part and is pushed towards the first toothed segment by spring force. The second toothed segment is coupled to a cam (20) which is movable between two positions: a first position where the two toothed segments are locked while in mesh and a second position where the second toothed segment can be pushed away from the toothed segment against the spring force.
