Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0490046A1] The invention relates to stackable document trays which are connected to one another in pairs via two spacers (40, 42) in each case whilst enlarging the mutual spacing and their accommodation capacity. The spacers (40, 42) can be fitted onto the upper edges (26, 28) of the side walls (14, 16) of a lower document tray (10'), while an upper document tray (10'') can be positively connected to the spacers (40, 42) from above by means of a pair (20) of foot parts in each case. <IMAGE>
