Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0491428A1] The luminaire comprises a housing (1) with a lamp holder (10a, 10b), and a louvre (20) to reduce angles at which light leaves the armature. The louvre (20) has elongate side walls (30) with a strip (31) bent back in a bending zone (32) connected to the side walls (30) and has slats (40) transverse to the side walls (30). Respective first and second tongues (41 and 42, respectively) are present at the slats which intersect the side walls (30) in slots (33, 34 respectively), the first tongues (41) hooking behind the side walls (30). The bent-back strips (31) not only press against the second tongues (42) of the slats (40), but are also tightly locked in a recess (43) in these tongues (42). <IMAGE>
