Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9105718A1] A folding box in corrugated or solid-fiber cardboard or other materials with a bar for transporting clothes on hangers or other objects, such as posters, paintings, suspended lamps, curtains, etc. has a closable loading opening arranged in one of the large faces, a flap over the loading opening and a cap for the top part of the folding cardboard box. The loading opening (25) is upwardly open and delimited in relation to the sides of the folding cardboard box (10) by marginal bands (23) of a few centimeters width; these bands are either simple bands or are formed by two parts folded together. The cap (30) for the top part of the folding cardboard box (10) or a separate part is formed in a single piece with a lengthening piece (31) that serves as a closing flap for the loading opening (25). The lengthening piece (31) is slightly longer than the loading opening (25).
