Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0498193A1] In a device for mounting a faucet assembly in a compartment between the tub-wall and bathroom wall or similar, the shower hose (55) of the extractable shower attachment (16) is connected via a high-pressure- resistant reinforced hose (52) to a water-conducting sanitary element (13). The reinforced hose (52) has such a length that the connection point (53, 54) between it and the shower hose (55) can be pulled out upwards until it is above the receptacle (17) for the shower attachment (16). After such a pulling-out of the connection point (53, 54) between reinforced hose (52) and shower hose (55), the latter can be exchanged without problems as required, without the sanitary elements normally situated in the compartment under tiling (62) having to be accessible. <IMAGE>
