Abstract (en)

The invention is in the field of the building industry, and its subject is a shed. This shed, of the type associating a metal frame, consisting of arches (1) tied by purlins (3), with a cover (2), is mainly characterised in that purlins, called rails (3), are located near the bases of the arches in the form of an annular vault formed in I-beams (22) and bolted to the ground by means of plates (4), the cover (2) comprising, along each of its longitudinal edges, a closed fold (6) provided with eyelets (7, 7') separating the cover (2) from an extension of the latter called skirt (8), having a dimension such that, since the cover (2) is fastened by a sandow (9) to the rails, the skirt (8) remains slightly slack under the rails (3). <IMAGE>

Abstract (fr)

L'invention est du domaine du bâtiment, et elle a pour objet un hangar. Ce hangar, du type associant une ossature métallique, constituée d'arcs (1) entretoisés par des pannes (3), à une bâche (2), est principalement caractérisé en ce que des pannes dites lisses (3), sont situées à proximité des pieds des arcs en plein cintre formés dans des poutres en I (22) et boulonnés au sol par des platines (4), la bâche (2) comportant le long de chacun de ses bords longitudinaux un pli fermé (6) muni d'oeillets (7,7') séparant la bâche (2) d'un prolongement de celle-ci dit jupe (8), de dimension telle que la bâche (2) étant accrochée par un sandow (9) aux lisses, la jupe (8) conserve un léger ballant sous les lisses (3). <IMAGE>
