Abstract (en)
A paint container comprises a can (10) and a removable lid (15) consisting of a closure member (16) in the shape of a well having an outer wall (30) through which a hole (34), above a certain level (36), enables paint to enter the well from within the can when the latter is tilted. The hole (34) acts as a weir to limit the depth of paint in the well to the said level (36). <IMAGE>
