Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0506606A1] On a conveyor belt (1), endlessly fed envelopes are grouped (11) into piles and then deposited in piles into a collection basket (26). The collection basket is respectively turned (262) through 90 DEG or 180 DEG before the next pile is deposited in it, so that the different piles lie in the collecting basket in an alternate manner. Alternately layered collection piles are finally pressed (16) from the collecting basket and packed into boxes (37) which have been made ready. The invention also includes a device for implementing the method. <IMAGE>
