Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0507737A1] The mixing process and the dynamic mixer according to the invention permit a much easier processing of a product consisting of a number of components (A,B) which react chemically with each other, insofar as, since the mixing chamber (3) of the dynamic mixer (2) consists of an independent and removable component, it is no longer necessary to stop production for a cleaning operation on the mixing chamber after a short stoppage of the machine, since this mixing chamber can be easily exchanged. <IMAGE>
