Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0508141A1] A device (10) for clamping an object (16), in particular a pressure-sensitive ceramic object, is described. The device (10) has a supporting part (12) with a supporting surface (14) for the object (16), and at least one flexible planar clamping element (18) which is adjustable along an associated guiding means (20) relative to the supporting part (12) and can be brought to bear on the object (16). <IMAGE>
