Abstract (en)

A support for opening handles (1) of doors, windows and the like, and a fixing insert (23) for it, constituting a housing of rotation for the handle (1) with possibility of dismounting and inversion of the handle (1) from right to left mounting and vice versa, with double anchorage interaxes and precision of functioning. The support comprises a plate (2) wherein there are housed two half-bushings (3, 4) creating the seat of rotation of the neck (8) and the handle (1). A fixed block (18) and a mobile block (13) contrasted by a spring (14), interchangeable with one another, are also provided for allowing the elastic recovery of the handle (1) after release and the correct horizontal positioning in resting conditions. <IMAGE>
