Abstract (en)
The invention relates to a trouser waistband of the "English waistband" type sewn to the top of stretch trousers. This waistband comprises an elastic ribbon (3) whose inner face is covered by upper (6) and lower (7) linings composed of bias-cut fabric strips obtained by weaving non-stretch threads and bias cutting-out. The lower lining (7) comprises a floating part (7e) which may be attached to the pocket bags via attachment points 12. The waistband of the invention combines high aesthetic qualities, on the inside and on the outside, enabling it to be fitted onto top-of-the-range trousers, with remarkable qualities of elasticity, retention and tension. <IMAGE>
