Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0517968A1] A tubular element (20) for location with the bore of a wellhead housing (10). The element (20) is located in a position in the wellhead housing after a bore has been drilled below the housing. The provision of the element (20) allows a bore protector (12) to be maintained in a position to protect the sealing surface of the wellhead bore during the running of casings, casing hangers, tubings and tubing hangers. <IMAGE>
