Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0519259A1] In a hinged portable container (10) made from plastic, in envelope form, which is particularly suitable as a multipurpose portfolio, it is proposed that two half-shells (11, 12) be connected by means of a resilient one-piece spinal hinge (13) which has webs (13a) extending in the longitudinal direction, between which partial film hinges (15) permit problem-free opening and closing of the container (10). The container (10) can have mounted inserts which can be swung open in book form or can accommodate a ring-binding mechanism in its interior.
