Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0521510A1] The packaging is in the form of a cartridge containing a substance for making a drink. The cartridge has a body (1) of frustoconical inverted frustoconical or hemispherical shape and a membrane (4) acting as a cover. The membrane or the bottom of the body of the cartridge comprises zones of reduced thickness (3) enabling the cartridge to be opened during extraction by a fluid under pressure while directing the flow of fluid through the bed of substance. The cartridge is available as different variants suitable for various types of espresso machines.
