Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0523428A1] The drawer is guided by two guide rails (20) on the furniture side and supported by support rollers (21). At the rear end of the drawer there are swivel arms (23) with running rollers (25) which run in the C-shaped guide rails (22). Secondary rollers (29), which are provided at the rear end of the drawer and take on the load when the running rollers (25) are unloaded or disengaged from the guide rails, run on the upper sides of the guide rails (20). This facilitates the insertion and lifting-out of the drawer and reduces the space required in front of the cabinet.
