Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9116835A1] A side-member (2) intended to form the vertical lateral bearing component of a work table or other item of office furniture has two vertical side rods (4) joined to a web (5) extending between them. The areas between the side rods (4) are covered with an insert wall (13). A cable channel (16) is formed between the removable insert wall (13) and a section (5a, 5b) of the web (5). In the lateral surfaces (17) of the two side rods (4) there is a vertical back-cut securing groove (18) for securing adjacent components of the item of office furniture.
