Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0527408A2] In an electromagnetic signal horn, in particular for motor vehicles, having a pot-shaped housing, which has a flared edge, having a diaphragm which is formed in an edge region in a planar fashion, and having a flanged ring which on the diaphragm side has a plane edge and on the housing side has the flanging, the flanged ring has a disconnecting point on its circumference in order to simplify manufacture. The flanged ring consists here of coiled stock. <IMAGE>
