Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0536585A1] In a refrigerator, corresponding support paths (5) are provided on opposite side walls (4) of an internal container (3), on which paths opposite side edge sections of a shelving plate (6) rest. In this case, set-back edge sections (7.1) are formed free of support elements projecting towards the neighbouring support path (5), support path sections (5.1) being provided, which are drawn so far towards the centre of the internal container that they reach under set-back edge sections (7.1). <IMAGE>
