Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0539308A1] It is equipped with a drive device which comprises: - a drive shaft provided with a plurality of independent modules the number of which is identical to that of the prism-shaped movable members (4) to be driven; - and drums or starwheels (51) integral with the movable members (4) each including fingers (52, 53 and 54) offset at 120 DEG from each other in order to come into contact with the cam (7) of the corresponding module so as to transmit a cyclic rotation to the said members (4) by means of claw couplings (55) integral with the latter. <IMAGE>
