Abstract (en)
[origin: WO9203083A1] In a mop head (1) for the wet or damp wiping of floors consisting of an elongated textile supporting structure (2) with holder insertion pouches (3) at the ends of the upper side and material (4, 6, 7) on the lower side to take up dirt and damp in the form of tufts, fringes, loops, towelling strips or the like, a system is provided to hold the pouches open without adversely affecting the other useful properties of the mop head. This is achieved in that the holder insertion pouches (3) have strips (9) of water-absorbent and swellable material, preferably of cellulose fibre, 0.5 to 10 mm thick in the region of the pouch aperture (8).
