Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0547361A1] A refuse container, particularly a large mobile refuse container (1), comprises a receiving or hanging device interacting, for emptying purposes, with the lift/tilt or tilting apparatus of a refuse collection lorry and an insert (10) which can be introduced into the container and secured therein for reducing the reception volume of the basic refuse container. In this arrangement, the insert is designed as an inner container, optionally imposing a reduced volume on the basic container, and having an edge support (14) which can be brought, at least on some areas, into connecting engagement on the upper aperture edge (7) of the basic container.
