Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0554566A1] In a mattress (1), in particular of compacted and thermally hardened fibres, with a fibre layer exhibiting a profile extending transversely to the longitudinal direction, a smooth surface is achieved even in the case of a folded mattress in that the profile is constructed as a hollow space (7 or 8), and in that the fibre layer (9) exhibiting the hollow space (7 or 8) is covered in the manner of a sandwich by two covering layers (2 and 12) resting against the two main surfaces. <IMAGE>
