Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0556488A1] A fuel vapour storage canister (10) that contains a trap housing (34) with a separating chamber (36) to capture the liquid component of the fluid from a fuel tank. The trap housing is designed so that the storage canister can be installed in the vehicle in a number of possible orientations while still isolating the liquid component from the adsorbent bed (18) of the storage canister. <IMAGE>
