Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0557977A1] An internal pull cord for articles of clothing whose upper material (17) is provided on the inside with a water-proof functional layer which is permeable to water vapour, the cord tunnel having a cord tube (29) which receives a cord (15) and from whose circumference at least one attachment strip (31, 33) projects laterally and is sewn to the upper material (17). At least the one seam (21, 23) is sealed off on the inside of the pull cord by a welded strip (25). The pull cord consists of waterproof material. The cord tube (29) is sealed off against the entry of moisture.
