Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0559223A1] A faucet metering device (1), for dispensing liquid from a container, has a cylinder and a piston guided therein so as to be longitudinally displaceable. So as to be able to convert a faucet metering device of this type simply and rapidly into a burette, a plug-on module (7) can be connected to the faucet metering device in a detachable manner. The plug-on module (7) consists of a housing (8) in which a follower (9) is guided in a longitudinally displaceable manner. <IMAGE>
