Abstract (en)

Anti-theft device for valuable products such as compact discs or the like, including a containment body (10) which is able to enclose one or more of the valuable products (11) arranged side by side, leaving exposed regions thereof which allow to identify them. The body includes two portions (10a,10b) which are mutually articulated in a peripheral region and are provided with elements (16) for mutual locking in closed condition. At least one of the portions (19) contains an electronic element able to activate an alarm circuit. A release punch (18) is provided which is able to disengage the mutual locking elements. <IMAGE>
