Abstract (en)

Package made from sheet material, such as cardboard or corrugated cardboard, whose shape is at least approximately parallelepipedic, and blank for making it. According to the invention, the faces (1 to 3) have different heights, the highest faces having a width at most equal to the distance separating two consecutive high faces, when the package is flat. Saving of material in the cutting out of blanks by the interleaving of the panels and/or flaps of two consecutive blanks. <IMAGE>
