Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0569326A1] The prisms (1) have add-on elements 21 on the long edges (8, 9, 10). The add-on elements (21) prevent the emergence of interfering light rays from a light source (7) arranged in the interior of the prisms (1), in the region of the long edges (8, 9, 10) of the prisms (1). At the same time, the add-on elements (21) form mountings and guides for parts of information supports (2), for example of placards divided into strips. The add-on elements (21) are at least partly provided with light-impermeable coatings. The add-on elements (21) are simple to adjust to differing conditions, and the prisms (1) designed according to the invention permit rapid and simple replacement of the information supports (2). <IMAGE>
