Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0570728A1] A folded label having a lower side (1) which has on its back a self-adhesive compound concealed by an easily removable covering, and having a plurality of sides (2, 3, 4) which lie, in the folded-together state, on the front of the lower side and, in the pulled-apart or opened-out state, together with the lower side result in an elongate strip or a sheet. The label is characterised in that, in a plurality of folds (5, 6) formed by the sides, a region (7) with a self-adhesive compound for reversible sticking is provided on a side (2, 3, 4) forming such a fold, which region holds the label together in the folded state, but which allows the label to be opened, pulled apart or opened out several times and folded together again to close it. <IMAGE>
