Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0583068A2] A crowd control barrier suitable for football grounds and other stadia is effective in preventing rapid passage of people across the barrier without obstructing spectators' view of events taking place. The barrier comprises a frame supported in a horizontal plane above the ground with parallel metal wire cables (24; 124) extending under light tension between the lateral frame members (19, 20; 119, 120). The frame members can be surrounded by freely rotatable sleeve segments (148).
