Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0586177A2] A method and apparatus for printing or copying text and/or graphics on a support medium in a removable manner to facilitate alterations. The method comprising: creating a toned image, corresponding to the text and/or graphics on a support medium, wherein the image receiving side of the support medium prior to receiving the toned image is blank or contains extraneous markings; and fixing the toned image to the support medium by setting a fusing condition efficacious to removably fix the toned image, thereby rendering the first toned image removably fixed on the support medium. <IMAGE>
