Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0586927A1] An umbrella or walking stick is described, having a handle arranged at the upper end of its stick, a fitted-on shell (10) being arranged on the stick (2) or the handle (1). The fitted-on shell has a design such that it can be snapped in and is attached in a snapped-in state. The fitted-on shell preferably consists of transparent material so that an insertion layer (18) which serves as a label carrier can be easily recognised below it. Two circular arc-shaped semi-shells (10, 11) can also be arranged located opposite each other. <IMAGE>
