Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0589238A1] In this process, the vertical bricking-up of that part of the heating wall to be renewed on the protective wall panel (1) of said part is commenced in such a manner that the new masonrywork rests precisely on the protective wall panel (1) and, furthermore, a perpendicularly running welding joint (8) consisting of a ceramic material is arranged between the new and the old masonrywork. <IMAGE>
