Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0591877A1] A shower (1) with self-cleaning shower head (3) has a nozzle plate (9) which is displaceable against the pins (7, 8), so that the shower holes (12, 13) are unblocked when the water supply to let water through is switched on. When the water is shut off, the nozzle plate (9) with its shower holes (12, 13) slides over the pins (7, 8) again. By this means, free throughflow for the shower holes (12, 13) is always ensured.
