Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0594953A1] A deployable protection cover for toilet seats has at least one deployable lamellar web (1, 2) which is formed by adhesively bonding a large number of substantially identical individual lamellae. Preferably two lamellar webs (1, 2) are provided, one of the two engaging around the toilet seat from outside. In the collapsed state, the protection cover has, for example, a U-shaped cross-section. <IMAGE>
