Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0600138A1] In the method for fitting a mixer in the right position on a cartridge for an extraction device, the means for aligning on the mixer are brought into engagement with corresponding means for aligning on the cartridge extraction end during mounting of the mixer on the cartridge extraction end and then the mixer is secured. The means for aligning on the mixer (2) contain at least one strip (10) which in each case engages in a corresponding cutout (11) on the neck on the cartridge extraction end (13). Such means make possible a simple and secure alignment of the mixer on the cartridge. <IMAGE>
