Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0606556A1] The invention relates to a method for decorating the upper surface (topsheet) of a ski, comprising a stage of assembling and securing a thick outer layer (1) made from transparent plastic material on an opaque inner layer (2). Prior to the assembly stage, a first decoration is transferred onto the outer face (10) of the outer layer (1) and a second, inner decoration different from the first decoration is transferred onto one of the faces (11, 20) of the inner layer which contact the outer layer (1). The invention makes it possible economically to produce varied and easily interchangeable decorations. <IMAGE>
