Abstract (en)

A container (1) particularly usable for the temporary storage of confectionery or food products which can be easily consumed by their purchasers. The container comprises a tray (2) which can be stacked prior to the step in which it is filled with the confectionery or food products (5) and has, at its upper perimetric edge (3), at least one seat (7a, 7b) for an item of cutlery (10). The item of cutlery can be accessed by the user when the product is consumed; its administration and its practicality in use are therefore facilitated. <IMAGE>
