Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0615919A1] The invention relates to a reclosable, cuboid container made of plastic film, in particular for receiving paper handkerchiefs, having a front, back, narrow sides, top and bottom, the top adjoining the back integrally and being pivotable in the direction of the front to close the package, and the top being connected to the sides in each case by side flaps which can be folded in. According to the invention, provision is made for the side flaps (18) to have in each case at least one predetermined or prefolded fold line (23, 25, 27) starting in each case from a corner point (20) between the back, top (16) and side. <IMAGE>
