Abstract (en)

Two half-shells (2), (3) of plastics material or the like fit together under pressure to form a container for tablets. One half-shell comprises a corner (8) turnable about an elastic flexibility line (9) to form the lid for the container opening; when closed, said corner engages with flanges (11) projecting from the complementary part (12) of the other half-shell, on which there are provided retaining rims (12) for the tablets (1) and lateral spacers (13) for limiting their discharge passage. <IMAGE>
