Abstract (en)
[origin: DE4323943C1] Illustrated is a cleaning device, in particular for covering with a woven or knitted textile base material (2), from which protrude pile threads (10), pile fibres or pile loops which exhibit cleaning action, and a fastening device (12, 12') formed on the base material (2) and intended for receiving a stretching frame holding the cleaning device, in which arrangement an elongate piece of trimming (4) is fastened to the base material (2) along a marginal edge (6) in such a way that the web width of the base material (2) between a fastening line (6, 8) is greater than the corresponding web width of the piece of trimming (4), so that the base material (2) curves or turns up between fastening lines (6, 8). <IMAGE>
