Abstract (en)
A door includes a door frame (20) and two skins (10,30) made of moldable material and forming two faces of the door by mounting on the door frame (20). Each of the two skins (10,30) is shaped by vacuum forming to provide depressed decorative patterns. Each of the two skins (10,30) is attached with a backing sheet (102,302) having cut-away portions corresponding to the depressed decorative patterns for receiving the same to maintain a sufficient rigidity of the door. <IMAGE>
