Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0637003A2] The invention relates to a transport trolley (1) movable by hand, especially a shopping trolley, with at least one device (3) intended for receiving merchandise, luggage and the like and with a pushing device which is arranged between two grip-holding parts (17) and is designed as a grip rod (5) and which is equipped with a coin-operated lock (11) making it possible to hire out the transport trolley on a deposit basis. It is proposed to arrange the coin-operated lock (11) on the grip rod (5) in such a way that an upper region (8) not taken up by the coin-operated lock (11) and extending from one grip-holding part (17) to the other grip-holding part (17) is maintained on the grip rod (5). <IMAGE>
