Abstract (en)

[origin: WO9322611A1] The invention provides for the production of a flame which has variable sizes, colors and shapes. The invention discloses also a torch which forms a self-contained and easy-to-handle lighting lamp. The handling of said lamp or torch is easy and provides satisfactory security conditions to the user. The compositions enable the vaporization of liquids in small amounts and are usable to colour the flames of lighters.
