Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0638441A1] The invention relates to a device for the releasable connection of a visiting card to an index card, with a transparent film at least partially masking the side of the index card receiving the visiting card. This device is to be so improved that the filing of visiting cards with the aid of index cards is facilitated. To this end, means (6) are provided which are so arranged and designed that the film (5) adheres releasably to the index card (3). <IMAGE>
