Abstract (en)
[origin: EP0639680A1] A plurality of hangers bear profile rails (1) of a suspended ceiling. A vertical hanger part (3) extending through a layer of insulating panels (5) exhibits, at its lower end, a widened retaining part into which the profile rail (1) engages. The retaining part projects through a central opening (11) of a horizontal supporting plate (12), which is fixed on the retaining part by turning it. The supporting plate (12) supports the insulating panels (5) before the supporting rails (1) are fitted. <IMAGE>
