Abstract (en)

A series of air jets (9,18) which is directed towards the lower face of a piece of textile material or fabric (7) which is to be uncoiled towards a lay-out table, the air jets (9,18) being situated in the interstice defined by the lower face of the said textile or fabric material (7) and the slide plates (8) which guide the material towards the said lay-out table for uncoiling thus ensuring a smooth entry and orderly passage of the material to the table. Also provided are outlets for free air (16,23) adjacent to the low pressure air jets (9,18) so as to compensate for any unbalance caused by the air jets.
