Abstract (en)

[origin: EP0653363A1] The invention relates to a cigarette pack, in particular a hinged-lid box, for cigarettes (10). A cigarette (10) or a partial cigarette (33) is to be received temporarily in the cigarette pack. For this purpose, the length of the cigarette (10) is smaller than the height or length of the cigarette pack in such a way that, when the cigarette pack is closed, a hollow space (chamber 31) is formed inside the lid (12) above the group (28) or block (30) of cigarettes to receive at least one cigarette (10) or partial cigarette (33) arranged lying transversely. <IMAGE>
